ALL THE LEVY DIAMONDS OUT.

ASBESTOS DICKEYS WITH EM AT THE DUKE'S BALL.

A Necessary Precaution Ordered by the Mayors of Most of New York, Outside City Hall, to Keep Down the Glare New Style in Trousers Introduced

The ballroom of Everett Hall in East Fourth street looked like a glittering fairyland last night, with myriads of 32-candle power fireflies flitting to and fro. The fireflies were the diamonds on the bosoms of the Joe Levy Association and the occasion of their flitting was the association's seventh annual ball.

The Levys had previously heard it whispered about that the original Cohens were pletting to outshine them at their own The result was almost blinding Bug Buckley, the Avenue A iceman, hinted that it was lucky the weather had held

"A good thaw," he said, "would just about raise hell wid most of dem dimin headlights."

This was probably due to jealousy or the Bug's part, as the Levy's are noted the lasting qualities of their jewelry. In fact it was rumored last night that the Hon. Simon Steingut, Mayor of Avenue A; the Hon. Mark Aron-go-Bragh, Mayor of Third avenue, and the Hon. Humpty Hanover, Mayor of Avenue C, had followed the example of the Hon. George B. McClel-lan, Mayor of City Hall Park, in protecting the public against fire by insisting that any gent displaying more than ten carats of glare should wear an asbestos dickie.

The grand march, of course, was led by their graces, the Duke and Duchess of Essex street (known when travelling incog as Mr. and Mrs. Joe Levy). Following them came Mr. and Mrs. J. Choate Pearlman (the latter illuminated by the famous $1,000 Pearlman nackless). man (the latter illuminated by the famous $7.000 Pearlman necklace); 150 original Cohens, the Moe Levy Association, 75 only original Cohens (very select), a joint delegation from the Essex Market Bar Association and Martin Engel Association, headed by Rosey the lawyer, and a large body of finely assorted Cohens, Cohans, Cohns, Kuhns, Kohns and Levys.

"De next t'ing ve know," commented Fiddles Finkelstein, admiringly, "Rosey vill be vearing der judicial vermin."

Those who attended the Florrie Sullivan ball thought that that function had settled fashions for a very at least. But at last fashions for a year at least. But at last night's ball Riegel, the sartorial artist in whose Bowery studio all the swellest dressers

Whenever a majority of Levys and Cohens happened to have their backs toward the head of the room, an electric light sign took advantage of the comparative gloom to shine forth with this inscription: "Welcome. The Duke and Duchess of Essex Street."

By midnight the floor was so crowded that whenever a couple got out of time it blocked the whole dance. Floor Manager Max Franklyn, after a hasty count through smoked glasses, announced the attendance

WOOD SKATES TO VICTORY.

Euclid Schoolboy Wins in Two of Three Open Events at Varona Lake.

Lincoln's Birthday was celebrated yesterday by the local skaters at Varona Lake in a stirring series of races held under the auspices of the Varona Lake Skating Club. The ice was in splendid condition, but very fast time was rendered impossible by a biting breeze which blew against the skaters on the backstretch. The crowd present was made ip principally of skaters out for a day's recreation and was liberally sprinkled with pretty girls from the local high school. Four events one and two mile handicans a novice mile and half mile scratch-constituted the programme, and these attracted every skater in the vicinity who had any pretensions to speed. Morris Wood of the Euclid School, Brooklyn, the national champion, was the hero of the oceasion by winning the half mile scratch and two mile handicap. He would have annexed the mile handicap, but the handi-capping was a trifle too stiff for his ability. The half mile was the opening event and a field of ten toed the starting line. At the crack of the gun Kearney was the first to show in front, with Wood and Stoltz at his heels, and in this order they raced for the first lap. Half a lap further Wood let out a link and Half a lap further wood let out a link and sailed to the front, but though he was repeat-edly challenged by Taylor and Stoltz he never was headed and won easing up by about six yards. A yard separated Taylor and Stoltz, who were second and third, respec-

In the first heat Krapowicz the prizes supplied some capital fun. There were many spills, to the intense satisfaction of the crowd. In the first heat Krapowicz of Brooklyn, who last year distinguished himself as a weight thrower, took two headers and quit, as did Laksen and several others. In the final heat when Ollie Wood looked like a winner he came a cropper and, although he regained his pins, could not catch the leaders. Kall, who accounted for the first heat, won the final with a lot to spare.

Twenty-five starters turned out for the mile handicap, and they were strewn out all over the track, which was six laps to the mile. Wood, who had the post of honor, and the back markers, Taylor and Kearney, with 50 yards each, gained in the field rapidly, but at the three quarters mark it was seen that their chase was hopeless and about three hundred yards from home the trio quit. Crane of Varona Lake, with a start of 220 yards, travelled in good shape all the way but he only managed to win by six inches from Stoltz, who was in receipt of 120 yards. The two mile brought out fourteen com-

Taylor of Brooklyn, who had an allowance of 350 yards, made pace all the way, but Wood had his field well in hand after about a mile and a cuarter. Then it was that Jenkins brought Alcom R. from behind in the stretch after Dr. Carrick had looked all over a winner, and fighting it out with the tiring favorite, Alcom R. won by half a length. Meadow Brook Wins the Special for the Best Pack-Judging Proves a Spirited Scene-A Pug of Unknown Pedigree a Sensation-Fox Hills Dandy Scores.

Performances morning, afternoon and night by a clever troop of trained dogs helped to ntertain a great holiday throng yesterday at the Westminster Kennel Club show, and when the packs from the hunt clubs were judged in the afternoon there was a record am in the Garden. The red coats of the huntsmen and the whippers-in gave a sporty finish to the scene in the ring, and the class was the best both in the number of entries and the quality of the foxhounds, ever brought out in this country by a competition of the his work very thoroughly, and, as the specia every pack was handled with dash and vim The prize was of $150 in money or plate, given by the Westminster Kennel Club. There the ring being ordered to a small enclosure placed with the name of its club. the huntamen had to show the control of their packs, each draft being of five couples, by parading and then gathering the dogs on the judging platform, and when the packs were mixed by calling out their own. The draft from the Middlesex Hunt was handled by the M. H., A. Henry Higginson, who won when this special was last contested for at this handled by the professional huntamen. A Cotesworths, formerly of the Vale of White Horse Hunt in England, had the two entries from the Meadow Brook Hunt; Charles Hale the two packs from the Orange County Hunt, and the other huntsmen were Will Nicholls. with the Montreal Hunt draft, and E. K. Coffin. with the Monmouth County Hunt entry. There were two whippers-in with each of the

There was never any doubt in the judge's mind, howeyer, as to where the prize should go, for the bitch division from Meadow Brook were so level in size and strong in bone, besides being under fine control, that he could not get beyond them. The winners were of the lot recently imported by Foxhall P. Keene, the Meadow Brook M. F. H., from England. He bought them from Mr. Sawtelle, who had been nunting in Cumberland, and, as this is a wooded country much like parts of the Meadow Brook country, the M. F. H. thought

The contest for reserve to the winners lay between the Montreai. Mrs. Howard Gould's black pugs are missed this year, although some good ones were benched, while the fawn classes were the finest for some time, the pugs having been out of fashion. High honors were thrust upon a lucky pick-up from a street vender owned by Mrs. Rowland P. Keasbey, an instance of good luck that happens often erfough to keep the pedaling trade a good one, and the aptly named Saybrook Gamble, although of unknown age, breeding and pedigree, won the open in fawn colored and the winners' class, in the latter beating the blacks. The Meadowmere Kennel, for the first time in many years, had no entries in poodles, the Red Brook Kennels carrying off the highest honors, and Dr. Motschenbacher once more swept the boards with his Dachshunds.

Pomeranians were in great force and in many new colors—lilac, cream and so on—but the famous little black, Fox Hills Dandy, was again pronounced the leader in the breed. Two foreign breeds now in high favor, the chowchows and schipperkes, had some society personages as exhibitors. Mrs. Charles E. Proctor's Chinese Chum, a newcomer from the Flowery Kingdom, won out in chowchows and resembles a small and very well fed Esquimau dog. Mrs. Albert Francke of Cedarhurst got the blue in schipperkes, her frisky black imp being called Tag. Tag was "it" in yesterday's game. French bull-dogs, however, claimed the first attention of the fashionabie set and the bat-eared little chaps seem to be as muth of a rage as ever. The English toy spaniels were catalogued under the new A. K. C. classification of black and tan, tri-colored, orange and white and red, but the Charlies, Blenheims and Rubies are as sweet to their feminine owners under any name. Japanese and the full range of the toys had an inning, and their gallery was as brisk in talk as a sewing circle when the owners reviewed the judging. One of the winners was Thomas W. Lawson's Darnell Darlington, and the Ashton Kennel's Ashton Baronet also found favor.

ICE YACHTING.

Fine Sport on Three Courses-Frank Croker Takes a Dip.

RED BANK, N. J., Feb. 12 .- A number of interesting ice yacht races were sailed here to-day. The first was for the challenge penant of America, and had the wind been a little stronger it is likely that the streamer would have gone over to the South Shrewsbury River. The yachts which tried for the pennant were Benjamin Morris's Mildred, William Joline's Hazel L., Newton Doremus's Atalanta, and George Gillige's Wizard. The Atalanta got away first, but was passed by the South Shrewsbury yachts Mildred and the South Shrewsbury yachts Mildred and Hazel L. on the third round. The boats had to do a lot of tacking, which made the race a slow one. The time limit for the twenty miles is 1 hour and 15 minutes, but the Mildred, which finished first, was 1 hour and 16 minutes in sailing the distance, and the race was postponed until to-morrow.

Eight yachts were lined up in a combination race for the North Shrewsbury Club cup and the Citizens' cup. The distance was fifteen miles and the following yachts started: Hazel L., Atalanta, Georgie, Typhoon, Tyro, Torment, Mildred and Vixen. The Georgie, owned and sailed by Charles P. Irwin, won the race in the remarkanly fast time of 32 minutes 34 seconds. She beat the Mildred, the second yacht, by 1 minute 4 seconds. The Torment was third. It was a close race for fourth place between the Atalanta and Typhoon, the Atalanta securing the position with only a fraction of a second to spare, her time being 37 minutes. The Tyro was sixth.

In a race for the club cup five yachts competed: Torment, Typhoon, Tyro, Atalanta and Georgie. The Georgie won her second victory of the day. The distance was ten miles and the winner's time was 33 minutes 55 seconds. During this race the Atalanta went into an air hole between Red Bank and Fair Haven and the accident put her out of the race.

Richard Croker's son Frank had his first experience as an ice yacht sailor this afternoon. He held the tiller of George Parson's boat Mamie Gaspipe, and not knowing the river sailed on thin ice which broke through. Croker took a cold plunge, but the adventure did not discourage him, and he expects to join the North Shrewsbury Club.

Lono Branch, N. J., Feb. 12.—Ice yachting was resumed at Pleasure Bay this afternoon, when two interesting races were sailed over the triangular course of the Shrewsbury Club in the presence of a large number of enthusiasts. The Rice trophy, which had been contested for a number of times, was won by J. E. Green's Eagle, which defeated the Harold and Shrewsbury. The second race, for the Coley trophy, was won by Hartwig N. Baruch's Skedaddle.

In the fifteen mile race for the Rice trophy the Eagle led from start to finish, covering the distance in 36 minutes 18 seconds. The Harold was second in 37 minutes 5 seconds. The Shrewsbury did not finish.

In the Coley trophy, a distance of fifteen miles, twelve yachts started. They were The Red Rover, Shrewsbury, Clarel, Blue Jay, Harold, Arrow, Skedaddle, Magnolia, Gypsy Girl, Mirage, Eagle and Sweetheart. All but the Skedaddle, Clarel and Red Rover withdrew. The Skedaddle finished first, covering the fifteen miles in 39 minutes 25 seconds. The Clarel was second, 1 minute 24 seconds behind, and the Red Rover third.

Newburg, N. Y., Feb. 12.—The Orange Lake Ice Yacht Club held two races this afternoon in a moderate wind over very rough ice, with the result that the time made was slow. The first race was for the Kidd pennant. Five yachts started: James Taylor's Junior, sailed by Will Kidd; James O'Brien's Jack Frost, sailed by Robert Kernahan: Commodore Higginson's Gale, sailed by George Mason, and E. Welsh's Squall, sailed by the owner. The race was won by the Junior in 29 minutes.

scooters scooted yesterday and the Long Island baymen, life savers and a large frowd of enthusiasts had lots of fun at Blue Point. The scooter is a boat that is indigenous to the Great South Bay. It sails on the water and glides over the surface Mather afterward, "which pack I would rather take home with me, and the answer favored the Orange County entry."

Beagle packs under the same conditions will be judged this afternoon, and the trick dogs will again hold the ring at intervals. The specials for the best in the show will also be allotted, all the judges meeting in the ring to pass on the candidates. One to be awarded is the Ballyhoo Bey challenge cup, for the best American bred dog of any breed owned and bred by a member of the Ladies' Kennel Association of America, the trophy being the gift of the late William C. Whitney.

Mrs. Howard Gould's black pugs are missed this year, although some good ones were benched, while the fawn classes were the finest for some time, the pugs having been out became contagious so that for some weeks nothing has been talked of among the baymen but the race. The race was to have been sailed two weeks ago, but the day before the one set there was a heavy fall of snow and that spoiled the fun. There was a long wait for the snow to thaw, and yesterday the conditions were ideal.

The Rider and Driver and Outdoor Sport offered a handsome cup for the winner, and Capt. Hank Haff got in commission for the day to act as referee. Several enthusiasis left the city vesterday morning, and on arriving at like Point enjoyed a rarting good linch and then went out to the frozen bay to see the scooters.

The course over which the boats raced was a triangular one, two miles to each leg. They raced around this three times, eighteen miles in all. There were thirty entries and fourteen starters, and six of these finished.

Though the wind was light from the north northwest, the contest was a very successful one and under the conditions the time was good. The scooters dodged nimbly from ice to water and their handlers were kept busy. The Aleda, owned by W. Still, cut out the pace when the start was made with a run before the wind. She fiew over the ice as though possessed and quickly drew away from her competitors. The scooters which earned prizes were:

Members of the Crescent A. C. held a trap shooting tournament yesterday on the grounds at Bay Ridge. The principal trophy was the Holiday cup at twenty-five targets. After a vigorous competition between sixteen shooters, Charles A. Sykes won with a straight score. D. V. B. Hegeman was the runner up with 24, and Frank B. Stephenson had 23 to his credit. The Stake Trophy at twenty-five targets went to Frank B. Stephenson with a e of 23, Frederick T. Bedford, Jr., and W. W. Marshall tieing for second place, each

Frank B. Stephenson achieved the next victory, making fifteen straight in a trophy race, Dr. S. P. Hopkins coming home second with 13 and Harry B. Vanderveer third with 12. It required two shoots off to decide the next fifteen bird race, Frank B. Stephenson, Erskine H. Lott, Frederick T. Bedford, Jr. and A. G. Southworth making scores of 12 each in the main event. On the initial shoot off, Stephenson and Lott tallied 15, tieing again, while Southworth made 13 and Bedford 9. Stephenson then defeated Lott by a score of 13 to 11.

A. G. Southworth, Frank B. Stephenson and Dr. S. P. Hopkins tallied 13 each for the new fifteen target trophy competition, and again a double shoot off was necessary to declare a victory. In the first shoot off, Southworth broke 13, Stephenson, 13; Dr. Hopkins, 11. The second shoot off, miss and out, went to Southworth with 4, Stephenson missing his fourth bird. A. G. Southworth again nailed a fine prize with fifteen sraight in the renewal of the event, but the fight for runner up position was a good one. F. B. Stephenson, Dr. S. P. Hopkins, Grant Notman and T. W. Stake each missed one target, while Frederick T. Bedford, Jr., was third with 13.

A trophy event at fifteen birds wound up

NEW YORK HOCKEY TEAM WINS

DEFEATS CANADIAN PLAYERS IN CLOSE GAME.

Montreal Men Give a Fine Exhibition of Team Work, but Local Men Prove Strong in Defence-Visitors Beaten by 2 Goals to 1—Clarke Too Aggressive.

The All New York team of bookey players last night defeated a team from Montreal in a very fast game played at the Clermont Avenue Rink in Brooklyn. The score was: New York, 2; Montreal, 1. The game was one of the prettiest witnessed here this winter. Both teams were made up of expert players, and the passing, dodging and team work were very clever. The Canadians showed well in team work and made many attacks on their opponents' goal, but the defence of the New Yorks was almost perfect. Williams made some wonderful stops and was cheered several times for his work. Jennison at point did well, and several times took the puck and rushed it back down the rink. The Canadian defence wasn't so good, and the two goals scored were not hard shots

Clarke did not play his usual game. Coul son, the Canadian, stuck to him and broke up all his work. Then Clarke lost his head and tried tripping. In the second half Clarke tripped Coulson and was sent to the bench Later on he tripped Johnson. Johnson was knocked out and so Clarke was taken off the New York team to even up things, The game started with a rush and Cassel man was the first to try for a goal. The man was the first to try for a goal. The puck was kept rushing up and down the rink, and both goal keepers were busy and did good work. There was no scoring in the first half.

In the second half the game was faster and after eight minutes play Hardy sent an easy shot into the Canadian goal. Two minutes later Coulson scored on a pass from Johnson and the game was a tie. Then Hardy, well covered by Howard, made a fine rush along the side of the rink and scored a goal on a very good shot. This was just before the whistle blew. To-night the Canadians will meet the Crescent A. C.

Informal golfing brought many out on the local links yesterday, which were free from snow and in fair playing order. The summer greens were used at Dyker Meadow, and about fifty made the round. The fine ice tempted the club folks from the links at Englewood, Ardsley, Knollwood and Garden City. The skaters had good sport.

POGGENBURG BEATS CONKLIN IN CLOSE GAME.

Result in Doubt Up to the Last-The Winner and Dr. Mial Will Meet To-day to Decide the Championship-300 to 278 Score of Last Night's Contest

The arbitrament of cues in the 14-inch balk line amateur championship billiard tournament at the Liederkranz Club brought Ferdinand Poggenburg and Charles Conklin into competition last night in the last regular game of the tournament. Victory for the former meant a tie between him and Dr. L. L. Mial for first prize, victory for Conklin meant first prize and the championship for Dr. Mial and a triple tie for second place involving Conklin, Poggenburg and Gardner. The victory went to Poggenburg, and he and Dr. Mial will play the deciding game for the championship this afternoon.

Conklin won the bank, smacked the balls to and fro for eight buttons and then gave way to Poggenburg. The latter pulled on a big cigar and in the most unruffled manner possible he at once set about to attune the globes to a low and soothing melody. They softly pealed out 33, due to a stroke that was as even in its swing as a lock step and a touch light and sure as an expert surgeon's. Conklin combatted he balls for only indifferent results in his first five innings, while Poggenburg in his fifth tenure of the table

Conklin combatted he balls for only indifferent results in his first five innings, while Poggenburg in his fifth tenure of the table again set them iningling for a yield of beautiful proportions. The space between them after each shot was seldom greater than the width of the band, and there was no more break in the even output of caroms than in the throb of machinery until a slight but none the less effectual kiss veered the cue ball from the straight and narrow path and sent Poggenburg to his chair with his spoils of war increased by 33. Conklin changed cues at this stage and an improvement was the direct result. He blazed a trail of 29 and the run teemed with several line cushion carom specimens of cue dexertity.

Poggenburg followed his seventh inning with a sudden drop. Conklin gave him does of safety and he gulped them down with difficulty. A string of five zeros was his portion and Conkin took the lead in the thirteenth inning. The Chicagoan seemed to be warmed up and his bearing was confident. He ran 32, and the score was 115 to 80 in his favor. Poggenburg was in no mood to trail anybody and he made the balls purtake of his mood. He took a lead of one point with a run of 31 in the fourteenth inning, missing a hard spread draw from off the cushion.

While it was largely a case of nurse or nothing with Poggenburg, be showed versatility in his seventeenth inning. The harmony between cue and arm cnabled him to beat a long muffled rattoe on the thoroughly docide globes, but he was not dependent on close range. Once the balls froze, and Poggenburg resumed the run by counting from the spot with as much assurance as he made any of his close shots. He also engineered shots in the open well.

Poggenburg was after the tournament run record of 73, and a scratch, due to a kiss, which accounted for his sixty-third shot, caused tremendous cheering and laughter. A boisterous kiss on an around the table shot ended the run, which reached the lofty altitude of 68. The score was 192 to 113 in Poggenburg in the inherent himi balls, being spotted, scattered and the run was over.

With a run of 20 Conklin caught and passed Poggenburg in the thirty-fifth inning. Conklin lin went all over the pasture for this splurge which was ploddingly acquired. The score was 266 to 259 in favor of Conklin, but Poggenburg the did it in his half of the inning. Each man had 34 points to go. Poggenburg had a good chance to make them in his thirty-seventh inning, but fell short on a drive to the other end of the table, then missed a two cushion shot. He was 10 points ahead, however. however.

The next time Poggenburg came to the table he calmly and quickly ran the game out, coming in for an ovation at the finish. Out, coming in for an ovation at the miss.

There were two matches decided to-day in the preliminary round, in which Milton S of New York easily defeated Erskine Hewitt in three straight sets and E. Edwards of New York won from William B. Dinsmore. Jr., of Tuxedo.

The morning match between Edwards and Dinsmore proved the most exciting and and Dinsmore proved the most exciting and was a stubbornly fought battle throughout. The play at first was a little timid, as the court was very fast. The third set was easily won by Edwards, but in the fourth Dinsmore, through fine service, won by a score of 15 to 11, making two sets all, but by very shrewd placing of the ball Edwards won the fifth and last set and the match.

AWFUL RESULTS OF EPILEPSY OR FITS

A REMARKABLE DISCOVERY HAS BEEN MADE WHEREBY THOSE AFFLICTED WITH EPILEPSY OR FITS CAN BE PERMA-NENTLY CURED.

FREE. A FULL 16-OUNCE BOTTLE

Many disastrous and fatal accidents have been directly caused through Epilepsy or Fits. Not long ago a prominent actress marred an entire performance by having an epileptic fit, and recently a New York paper published an account of a young lady being selzed with a fit and fatting from the third floor of a building, sustaining fatal injuries; but it was left for a citizen of Vinita. I. T., to have the most exciting experience on record. In the spring of '96 John Chouteau, while on his pony near Vinita, I. T., suddenly uttered a heart-rending yell and fell from his pony, his feet still in the silrrups. The pony became frightened and staried to run. Bill Nedway, who was near by, made a greet lasso throw, oaught the pony and saved Chouteau's life. Chouteau had been warned not to ride, as he was subject to terrible attacks of epilepsy since infancy-the attacks coming sometimes three or four times a week. Chouteau about this time began taking Dr. Fred E. Grant's cure for Epilepsy, and to quote his own words, "I have never had an attack since. As this occurred in 76t, he is beyond a drubt permanently cured. Dr. Fred E. Grant spoken of in the above is a renowned physician who has made a life study of the cause and cure of Epilepsy or Fits. He has prepared a remedy, which is a purely vegetable compound, and he emphatically states that this preparation will permanently and positively cure fits in all its forms, no matter from what cause. He wishes to convince everyone that his statement is a fact; he therefore sake svery person in the United States suffering with Epilepsy or Fits to send their name and address to Dr. Fred E. Grant, #10 New Ridge Bldg., Kanasa City, Mo., and receive, absolutely free, a large bottle of this wonderful remedy. Remember, it is not a sample bottle, but a large full if-ounce bottle and it costs you nothing. From the marvelous eures that have been made it can be positively stated that every case will be permanently cured that takes this treatment. Our advice is, write to-day and take advantage of this generous offer. JOHN CHOUTEAU.
